SUBJECT: POSSIBLE EXCESS PLASTIC FLASH ON CONTROL HANDLES

AFFECTS: ALL ZR AND DX SERIES STRINGTRIMMERS

Excess plastic flash has been observed on the control handle seam on some of the early production models of the above listed stringtrimmers. This flash may cause minor discomfort to the operator if not trimmed.

The flash (indicated by the arrow) can be removed by using a model knife or similar tool to trim both sides of the handle on the seam.

This trimming activity may be claimed as warranty.

Job code: FV53

Flat rate: 0.2 hr.

Multiple units can be listed on a single warranty claim, however each UT and serial number must be listed separately.

We apologize in advance for any inconvenience that may have been caused by this oversight.

SUBJECT: SEALED MUFFLER A04716A

AFFECTS: SX135, HLT15, ST385, PLT3400 AND PBC3600

Homelite offers a sealed muffler, part number A04716A, as standard on all SX135, HLT15, ST385, PLT3400 and PBC3600 trimmers and brushcutters.

The sealed muffler assembly has the cover crimped to the body which allows the unit to run quieter and eliminates unburned oil from seeping through the seam. Repairs to the muffler are made quicker because there is only one part to replace.

The spark arrestor screen is an integral part of the sealed muffler and cannot be replaced as an individual part.

The A04837 muffler assembly is available if the need to replace the spark arrestor screen is frequent.

NO. 195-004

SUBJECT: SERVICE UPDATE

AFFECTS: ALL ZR/DX MANUAL START STRING TRIMMERS

Starter Housings-If the rope will not retract on zr/dx series manual start trimmers, check to see if the boom is pushed against the starter housing. This can occur because the front of the unit has hit a solid object driving the boom into the starter housing.

To determine if this is the problem, loosen the handle grip screws that clamps the boom and slide the boom forward. If the rope is now free to move, the boom has pushed the starter pulley into the starter housing baffle. To correct the problem, position the boom slightly away from the starter housing and tighten into place. If the problem recurs, replace the starter housing baffle, part number 06541A. If the starter housing shows wear at the center, replace the complete starter housing, part number A07143.

If the plastic throttle handle will not grip the boom tight enough to prevent the boom from sliding, install a strap hanger, part number 07255. The hanger acts as a stop and will generally lead to the sale of a strap.

Please note: In some units washers, between the bosses on the starter housing and the handle grip, align the boom with the starter. These washers prevent a thrust load on the crankshaft. Do not use washers to space the tube away from the starter

Fuel System- Between November 1994 and June 1995, Homelite produced trimmers with two types of carburetors and fuel lines on an interim basis. Because of this, an exact replacement is not available. Homelite provides a carburetor kit, part number A07139, and a fuel tank kit, part number A07141A, to service all the configurations.

Service carburetors are fully adjustable and have the primer bulb on the top. Because Walbro and Zama carburetors are interchangeable, either carburetor may be included with service carburetor kits.

The fuel Tank Kit contains fuel lines that are long enough for trimming to fit all configurations.

Homelite does not supply carburetor repair kits or primer bulb kits for zr or dx series string trimmers.

Clutch Kit A04655- Homelite produces clutch model string trimmers with either two (2) or three (3) "S" clutches. Both types are serviced with a single kit containing: three (3) "S" clutches (00242), one (1) spacer (03566-1), one (1) clutch washer (98929-A) and one (1) drum & connector (A-03485-A). We recommend this kit to simplify stocking and to increase the durability of the unit.

Air Filter Kits- Air Filter kit A07157 (without stop switch) and Air Filter Cover 07051 were not produced in 1995. All orders for this kit are being changed to A07140 (with stop switch). All orders for the cover are being changed to 06622.

Control Handle and Trigger- Homelite did not produce trimmers using part number A07158 (Control Handle with Switch) in 1995; Part number A07144 is substituted when A07158 is ordered.

Early production triggers were brittle and would break when used. We have addressed this concern and triggers, part number 06605, are flexible enough to withstand normal operation.

If the throttle cable "Z" fitting is binding on the carburetor throttle plate, replace the throttle cable using part number 06603A. This cable has a longer fitting and will not bind on the throttle plate. Replacement of the cable will also prevent the trigger from breaking.

If the throttle does not fully open, check the carburetor throttle plate for flatness. The throttle plate can be straightened with needle nose pliers if it is bent.

Machete Blades- The brush cutter guard may interfere with the use of the Machete blade due to guard tolerances. Add a second washer, part number 00734, under the upper flange washer to alleviate the interference.

String Trimmer Accessories- Every owner's manual contains an accessory sheet listing parts such as stringheads, retainers and blades available for our string trimmers. Listed on the back of that sheet is an order form with a matrix of units and the accessories available for each individual unit. Blades are not accessories for any units with a "d" (example: d830sd) at the END of the model designation or any Push Button Start unit. Use Blades on units with a "b" designation (example: z830sb).

Divider Spool- Improved string trimmer spools were introduced as a running change early in 1995. Divider spools part numbers DA98912E (.080 line) and DA02598C (.095 line) are now in use on all Homelite consumer models. With two separate lengths of string wrapped on the spool, the divider spool eliminates binding or welding. Included with the divider spool is a lighter spring, part number 06713. Do not use Spring part number 98848 with the divider spool. Part number 06713 may continue to be used with previously produced "non-divider type" spools.

SUBJECT: NEW OIL TANK

AFFECTS: XL/200 FAMILY CHAIN SAWS
LX30

The above model saws are now being built with a newly designed oiling system. The new design places a check valve on the inside of the crankcase at the guide bar pad. This will eliminate any problems with oil siphoning out of the tank when the saw is shut off.

The second part of the design is the oil tank itself. The configuration of the tank fits all of our small saws (i.e. units with the pump in the crankcase, units with the pump on the carburetor and all saws with pressurized oil systems). The connector between the duckbill and the pulse line, has been replaced with a tee fitting, allowing better regulation of the amount of pressure bleed off back to the crankcase. The pulse line now enters the tank so that the duckbill and tee fitting are moved over under the edge of the tank, protecting them from being knocked off when filling the tank using a funnel.

All existing oil tank part numbers will supersede to the new tank kit as follows:

SUBJECT: METAL OVERHEAD FUEL TANKS

AFFECTS: HRL SERIES GENERATORS, HRL4400 UT03771 AND HRL5500 UT03776, WITH SERIAL NUMBERS HP1080001 THROUGH HP3181999.

Rust inhibitor has been found in the filler neck and bottom of HRL metal overhead fuel tanks. To determine if the rust inhibitor is present remove the fuel cap and look inside the filler neck; if there is a yellow paste inside the neck, rust inhibitor is present and must be removed before the unit is operated.

Procedure: Shut off the fuel valve, disconnect the fuel line and remove fuel tank from unit. Clean the filler neck and rinse the fuel tank with a solution of degreaser or alkaline cleaner and hot water. Drain the tank by removing the fuel valve, rinse with clean hot water three (3) times. To dry tank, flush with "dry gas" (to remove moisture), then install the fuel valve and reconnect the fuel line. Reinstall the tank on the generator and connect fuel line to carburetor.

Failure to clean the tank may result in contamination reaching the carburetor which will cause the engine to run erratically and "back fire" at no load and partial load.

filler neck

If the carburetor has been contaminated it should also be cleaned. To clean: remove float bowl; remove the high speed jet with straight blade screw driver; clean jet thoroughly with a wire (no more than 0.0385" diameter) and reinstall. NOTE: Chemical carburetor cleaners alone are ineffective in removing build up of scale.

Cleaning of the tanks may be claimed as warranty.

          LRI2500      UT03777      UT03780

Fuel Valve Kit, part number A07569, is available for LR and LRI 2500 watt generators that experience shut down, from lack of fuel, before the fuel tank is empty. The kit vents the fuel line between the fuel tank and the carburetor and will prevent "premature shut down" from recurring.

Included in the kit are a 180 degree fuel valve, a bushing, a wire tie and instructions.

Installation of the kit is a warranty item only on LR and LRI 2500 watt units with a 90 degree fuel valve.
